

Property Owner Information Day

Request for Speakers

The Town of Vandemere will host a Property Owner Information Day to help lot owners in the area understand their options now that new road paving and sewer infrastructure have been completed.

The purpose of this session is to provide general, factual information to property owners who may wish to build, sell, or organize for collective maintenance or representation.

The Town invites participation from licensed or qualified professionals who can provide general insights in the following areas:

- Real Estate Professionals: Realtors or brokers experienced in Vandemere or Pamlico County property sales.
- Licensed Building Contractors or Developers: Residential builders familiar with local permitting and construction.
- Legal or Governance Professionals: Attorneys or community-association specialists who can explain the process, advantages, and considerations of forming or re-establishing a Homeowners' Association (HOA) or Property Owners' Association (POA).

Event Details:

Date: 6 December 2025 Time: 10:00 AM to 11:30 AM Location: Microsoft Teams Meeting

Format: 5-minute presentations followed by a moderated Q&A session.

Speakers may use PowerPoint to share general educational information only; no direct marketing, sales, or solicitation will be permitted. A Resource Page will be provided to participants after the webinar. Inclusion on the Resource Page is for informational purposes only and does not imply endorsement by the Town of Vandemere. All speakers will have equal time and an opportunity to respond to resident questions.

Please respond by 25 November 2025 to participate, or for more information, contact:
